Suburban Manufacturing, Inc. provides custom-engineered muffler cover for academic competition.

Suburban Manufacturing, Inc. partnered with students from The Milwaukee School of Engineering to provide a custom-engineered muffler cover for The ASABE International Scale Tractor Student Design Competition. The two parties worked hand in hand to design and fabricate a wrap style cover for protecting against high heat radiating off of a Briggs and Stratton Vanguard engine. Suburban's expertise and experience with temperature control fabrication was a shared benefit to the students when constructing the application specific solution. Steve Shaffroth, the student liaison commented, "We passed all of our technical inspections. [The] exhaust wrap worked very well. The judges were very impressed!"

Peter Thompson, CEO of Suburban Manufacturing commented, "We always appreciate the opportunity to donate our time and resources in support of education."
