Tsunami Compressed Air Solutions is a complete line of products designed and developed to assist customers in obtaining dry, clean air for their specific application needs. The system uses the latest technology to provide the cleanest, driest compressed air available. Systems can be configured to provide very low dew points (down to -80 F or very low relative humidity down to .1%), with very low sweep rates. The Tsunami line removes bulk water, water vapor (humidity), oil, small aerosols, oil vapors, large and small particulates (down to .01 micron) and eliminates odors and tastes, thereby improving and extending downstream equipment functionality. Use of the Tsunami products can help save 10%-15% of compressed air energy costs.
